TIMBERLAKE ROUNDS OUT ITS GROWING FAMILY OF DOOR STYLES WITH TWO BOLD NEW COLLECTIONS

Montana and Durango Collections Entice Buyers and Make Homes Really Stand Out

LAS VEGAS, May 10, 2005 – Appealing to homebuyers with a flair for old-world or contemporary home design, Timberlake Cabinet Company, a leading supplier of cabinetry to the home building and remodeling markets, introduces the Durango™ and Montana® Collections to its Portfolio Select series of cabinets. Available in Cherry and Maple as well as with Timberlake’s specialty finishes, these two new collections are characterized by a decorative nine-piece door style.

“These new collections combine sophisticated craftsmanship and elegance for a luxurious, self-assured look that is perfect for a full-range of home decorating styles,” says Connie Edwards, CKD, CBD and Timberlake’s director of design. “The ornamental detail of these two new collections combined with the sumptuous wood tones help builders entice homebuyers and maximize profits, particularly when combined with Timberlake’s complete line of decorative accessories and customizing options.”

Durango's nine-piece full overlay, raised solid panel door with applied molding makes it even easier for builders and remodelers to use stock cabinets to create beautiful built-in cabinetry that increase the sale of upgrade options. Additionally, in response to customer requests, Durango's deep drawer cabinets also feature a nine-piece drawer front configuration that compliments the door styling.

Durango Maple is available in Natural, Honey or Spice finishes, and Coffee or Mocha premium finishes. Durango Cherry, ideal for more traditional designs, features a warm Spice or deep Bordeaux finish and is available with Timberlake's premium Chocolate finish.

For a more contemporary look, builders can choose the Montana Collection, characterized by a full overlay, recessed flat veneer panel door with applied molding featuring the same nine-piece cabinet door construction. This sophisticated door style works perfectly with a more modern design scheme and is available in Natural, Honey or Spice finishes and Mocha or Coffee premium finishes, further emphasizing the intricate profile of the elegant Maple cabinetry.

The new collections are sold with Timberlake's Five-Year Limited Warranty. Additionally, all 24" and 27" wide cabinets feature a standard Butt Door configuration for a full-access opening into the cabinet. The cabinetry also can be upgraded with Timberlake's new CushionClose™ drawer option, a silent self-closing Full Access drawer system.
